

Society for Studies in Organizing Healthcare

Organisational Behaviour in Health (OBHC)

<http://shoc.org.uk/>

Pre-conference workshop for PhD students & Early Career Researchers

Monday 12 September 2022

9.30am – 3.30pm

University of Birmingham, UK

What?

- This workshop will take place prior to the OBHC conference, which is a flagship event of the Society for Studies in Organising Health Care \(SHOC\).
- The workshop will be designed around participants' needs and include:
 - Research speed-dating
 - Writing a fellowship application
 - Keynote speaker: Dr. Charlotte Croft, Associate Professor, Warwick Business School, UK
 - Working on your research: interactive sessions in small groups with a senior academic

Who?

- The workshop is open to those PhDs/ECRs who have registered for the conference.
- There are only 32 spaces so book quickly.
- As in previous years, the workshop will be facilitated by Professor Catherine Pope, University of Oxford, who is also PhD/ECR Development Officer for SHOC.

How much?

- Thanks to a grant from SAMS (<http://www.socadms.org.uk/>) and SHOC, we can make the workshop free of charge.
- We have bursaries to enable those with limited institutional resources to attend.

Next?

- Register for the conference: <http://shoc.org.uk/>
 - Tick the PhD/ECR box in the registrant details
 - We will send you further details (including bursaries)

Twitter @SHOC_OBHC
#OBHC22